

STUDENT ACADEMIC AND WELFARE COUNSELLING POLICY AND PROCEDURE

1. Purpose

This policy and procedure document ensures that students are provided with the academic and welfare support they require in order to achieve their best results and be happy and healthy during their time with SMEAG English. This document should be read in tandem with the Mental Health Policy.

2. Scope

The Director of Studies (DoS) is responsible for communicating the procedures below to teachers. Teachers are welcome to give feedback on the procedure to improve the service offered to SMEAG English students.

This policy is also designed to identify students who may need to be referred to Student Services staff or the DoS for welfare counselling if required, and to provide options for students who wish to undertake further study to be referred to more experienced staff for Academic Counselling.

3. Policy

Through this policy, SMEAG English ensures that:

1. Teachers give students constant formal and informal academic feedback in their everyday in-class practice as well as in more formal occasions as detailed in the procedure section below.
2. The feedback procedure at SMEAG English is divided into a 3-step process:
 - A Personalised Study Plan (PSP)
 - A Mid-Course Report
 - An End-of-Course Report
3. All teachers understand and follow the feedback Policy and Procedure in its 3 steps.
4. All teachers understand the timeframe between the 3 steps.
5. All teachers are responsible for the successful outcome of this policy.
6. All teachers communicate to the Director of Studies in case of doubt or uncertainty as to how to proceed in the case of student absenteeism (which could impact their assessment on the student learning process).
7. Teachers refer students to the DoS or Student Services for welfare counselling as per the below procedures.

STUDENT ACADEMIC AND WELFARE COUNSELLING POLICY AND PROCEDURE

8. All the steps of the Feedback Policy and Procedure are documented, correctly saved and clearly named in the shared drive (One Drive) so that all documents are easily accessible to all SMEAG English staff.
9. All teachers use the latest version of the report templates provided by SMEAG English in compliance with the ELICOS Standards 2018.
10. Teachers are always notified by the Student Services Officer when a student is due a report/PSP.

4. Procedure

1. STEP 1: at the end of students' Week 1, teachers prepare a Personalised Study Plan (PSP) and discuss it individually with the new student. The PSP focuses on the student's weakest skills identified by the teacher within the 1st week and includes practical tips and advice on how to improve on those skills.
Teachers manage class time in order to talk with the student in class, unless they voluntarily choose to discuss it after class.

Example of ideas are provided to teachers in 2 documents respectively called Actions required for Higher level and Actions required for Lower level, available on OneDrive in SMEAGTeachers>filename.

2. The PSP is not provided when a student is promoted to a new class. It is only given once, at the beginning of the student's enrolment (Friday of Week 1).
3. The PSP template is on One Drive under Teacher Template. Tips and advice for students to improve in particular areas are available in the documents as mentioned in point 1. Teachers do not have to stick to only these tips. If they have any other relevant, effective advice to give to the student to improve on a particular skill, they are welcome to do so. Teachers are indeed encouraged to share new tips with the Director of Studies so that they can be then included in the list of Actions required for Higher level and Actions required for Lower level.
4. This is also an opportunity for teachers to check in with the students as to how they are adjusting to life in Australia. If teachers suspect that students are experiencing any of the below, they should immediately refer the student to the DoS for welfare counselling using the Student Referral form:
 - Stress, anxiety, depression, homesickness, sleep or eating issues, self-harm, drug or alcohol problems
 - Relationship difficulties (family, housemates, friends)
 - Financial difficulties
 - Difficulties adjusting to a new country, culture shock

STUDENT ACADEMIC AND WELFARE COUNSELLING POLICY AND PROCEDURE

Students referred to the DoS who appear to be experiencing serious mental health issues such as self-harm, severe depression or alcohol / drug abuse are to be referred by the DoS to Elly Shin.

Students can also make an appointment to see the psychologist at reception.

5. STEP 2: the PSP is followed up by a Mid-course report. The Mid-course Report is not available for students who do not enrol for more than 6 weeks. The purpose of this report is to check student academic progress in the middle of his/her enrolment. Progress will be checked both against achievement of learning outcomes, and in the form of general teacher comments.

When a student is due for a Mid-Course Report, teachers also take the opportunity to counsel students on academic matters and further study opportunities. This counselling opportunity is an informal chat between teacher and student, on Friday while students are taking the test. As in the initial meeting, this is also an opportunity for teachers to check in with the students as to how they are adjusting to life in Australia, and to refer the student, if necessary, to the DoS for welfare counselling.

Requests for information about further study

The following staff all have extensive experience working with international students and advising them on further study options. They speak the following languages:

1. Daniela Lopera (Spanish)
2. Irena Shi (Chinese)
3. Risa Oshida (Japanese)
4. Hayan Kim (Korean)
5. Elly Beolchi (Italian)

If any student mentions to the teacher that they are interested in further study, teachers are to refer students to one of the above staff.

Pathway Students

STUDENT ACADEMIC AND WELFARE COUNSELLING POLICY AND PROCEDURE

Any students who are already enrolled on a pathway to further study will be identified on the roll in the first week they join the class. The teacher is responsible for ensuring that notes are made on the Mid-course report regarding the student's progress towards their further study goals, and the DoS will monitor these student reports. Teachers should also alert the DoS at any point in time if they feel that the student is not likely to achieve their further study goals.

6. Teachers are provided with a template to complete when counselling the student on academic matters and future study opportunities. The template is called What to do after? and is available on OneDrive in the section Teacher templates.
7. STEP 3: The End-of-course report is given to all students at the completion of their course. This report also checks student progress both against achievement of learning outcomes, and in the form of general teacher comments.

All templates are available to teachers on OneDrive in the section Report.

A Student Feedback procedure document as shown below with clear visuals of the 3-step process is available on One Drive in SMEAGTeachers>Policies.
